No Bank Guaranty Law at this Session.

Special to the Eagle.

Austin, Texas, April 15.—Apparently, former Governor Glenn of North Carolina is acting as a peacemaker between Governor Campbell and the senate. While there are still differences of opinion, a truce has been established which, it is believed, will result in an early adjournment, without the enactment of a bank guaranty law, but there will be harmony during the remainder of the session.

GOVERNOR GLENN SPEAKS FOR PROHIBITION.

Special to the Eagle.

Austin, Texas, April 15.—Former Governor Glenn of North Carolina delivered a rousing address in the house this morning in favor of prohibition. Senators and representatives loudly applauded the sentiments expressed by the distinguished visitor. The pros say they are sorry the speech was not delivered sooner as they believe if it had been so they could have carried submission as a result.

Governor Campbell will not send in his message until late this afternoon. Its contents have not yet been divulged. It is understood however, that it will embrace only local measures and will recommend alterations in the state departments based upon the report of the expert auditors recently submitted.

BAILEY INTRODUCES INCOME TAX BILL.

Special to the Eagle.

Washington, D. C., April 15.—Senator Joseph W. Bailey today announced to the Texas News Service correspondent that this afternoon he will introduce in the senate his income tax bill as an amendment to the tariff bill.

Bailey's bill is practically the same as the income tax provision in the Dangley law, except that the minimum taxable income is raised from $4,000 to $5,000 and the rate of taxation is raised from two per cent to three per cent.

Bailey steadfastly refuses to modify his bill so as to eliminate the features held unconstitutional by the federal supreme court, and declares he will challenge the court on its ruling.

COLD CARLOAD OF HOGS.

Messrs. Buchanan & Cloud yesterday afternoon sold a carload of fat hogs to E. G. Liebold and he shipped them to Fort Worth last night. There is a market in Bryan for hogs every day in the year, and with a little time and attention our farmers can make this the most profitable department of their farms.

CATTLE SHIPMENTS ARE PARALYZED

Thirty Thousand Ready to be Moved but Railroads Refuse to Receive Them Except at Owners Risk.

Special to the Eagle.

Fort Worth, Texas, April 15.—The effort of Osage county, Oklahoma, to enjoin the movement of Texas Cattle into that state has paralyzed the stock shipments through Fort Worth and the business is at a standstill. The Santa Fe the Katy and the Texas and Pacific will not receive cattle for shipment except at the owner's risk. It is announced here that thirty thousand cattle remain to be moved to Oklahoma.

THE REVIVAL.

The "Business Men's Day" in the revival at the First Baptist church, from 10 to 11 this morning, was a great success in every sense of the word. All business houses of the city closed and a vast crowd filled the church to its greatest capacity.

Evangelist Hayle delivered the greatest sermon that he has preached since the meeting opened, and the great crowd that heard him was visibly touched by the powerful words and truths of the speaker.

He took for a text the 26th verse of the 6th chapter of Romans: "For the Wages of Sin is Death."

He divided the subject into three parts: First, the employee, second the employer, and third, the employment.

He laid down the broad and general principle that all who are not in the employ of the Lord are in the employ of the Devil, that the employment is sin and the wages death. A stronger plea was never made in Bryan for men and women to enter the service of the Lord by accepting Jesus as their personal Savior, and whose blood made their redemption possible.

Services again tonight at 7:45 and tomorrow at 10.

Mrs. A. M. Waldrop, assisted by a number of the ladies of the Methodist church will give a church tea Friday afternoon from 4 to 7. A cordial invitation to all to attend. 110

CITY SCHOOLS.

Rev. Thomas, the new Christian minister brought his child to the school this week.

We are glad to have a man with such clear and correct views of school work to visit us.

We are striving to make the school such that the best people of all denominations will approve.

We have, in the schools, Jews, Catholics, Presbyterians, Baptists, Methodists, Christians, Free Will Baptists, Episcopalians and possibly others.

All are cordially welcome. We must give our best efforts to school in order to succeed. Just as Christ's disciples could not serve God and mammon, so can we not serve the schools efficiently if our hearts are in other things. "Singleness of purpose," as the preachers would term it, is what we must have in school work.

If the public schools does the child good, it is necessary that the teacher should put her whole heart and soul in the work, and that she should carefully study, the standard works on pedagogy.

To bring these things to pass, for the good of the children, is what we are trying to do.
